PICTURES FROM OUR WEEKEND SCRIPT ADAPTATION WITH VENICE ARTS

Posted on November 14, 2011 by Danny Hom, Programs and Social Media Manager

On Saturday we welcomed a tight-knit group of young filmmakers from Venice and nearby communities for a morning of writing with Venice Arts' Movie Madness. You can read about all the fun here.

We were so excited to help students turn pages of prose into cinema, and we know it would make our Dorsey partner from last year, Robert Jeffers, proud. (In fact, we're sponsoring the Getty exhibition of some film work by Dorsey filmmakers at this year's LA Intersections culmination.) So we were doubly-excited to see the work of our young Spielbergs on Venice Arts' website. Take a look at the link below:
